Owing to circumstances which attended the printing of this work it was unfortunately not possible for the author to be given the opportunity of seeing the final proofs embodying the corrections made in the first proofs.

Etant donné les circonstances concernant l'impression de cet ouvrage, il a malheureusement été impossible de fournir à l'auteur l'occasion de voir lui-même les dernières épreuves comportant les corrections apportées aux premières épreuves.

Forewords

It is now so widely recognized as to be beyond debate that workers in all fields of education, science or culture cannot be fully efficient in their contacts with their colleagues unless they command good bibliographical services. Thus in all subject fields, and particularly in pure and applied science, in which this problem of communication is most urgent, there has been such a vast development of abstracting and other forms of bibliography that a guide to them is an essential tool in every library and research institute.

This need was recognized as far back as 1923 by the International Committee of Intellectual Co-operation of the League of Nations when it accepted a proposal presented by Marcel Godet, Director of the National Library, Switzerland, for the publication of a guide to " bibliographic co-ordination ". The first edition of the guide, edited by Godet, was published at Geneva in 1925 under the title Index Bibliographicus. In 1926 a supplement was published at Renaix, Belgium under the auspices of the International Institute for Bibliography, and a second edition of the Index as a whole was published in Berlin in 1931, jointly edited by Marcel Godet and Joris Vorstius of the Prussian State Library, Berlin.

The demand for a new directory was first brought to Unesco's urgent attention by the International Conference on Science Abstracting, held in June 1949. Since it was evident that the same need existed in other than scientific and technical fields the Fourth and Fifth Sessions of the General Conference of Unesco agreed that a new Index Bibliographicus should be published with attention first being given to the present volume which records periodicals containing bibliographies and abstracts in science and technology. It is intended to publish a second volume covering the social sciences, education and humanistic studies in 1952.

The present Index is in direct continuation of the earlier work, although the form and scope of the entries are somewhat changed. The main work of preparation was carried out by Mr. Theodore Besterman as compiler and editor on behalf of the International Federation for Documentation. I wish to thank the Federation for its collaboration with Unesco in this first part of a task whose fulfilment I am certain will be widely welcomed by scientists and librarians throughout the world.

JAIME TORRES BODET
Director-General, Unesco.

Avant-propos.

Tous s'accordent à reconnaître aujourd'hui que seule l'existence de services bibliographiques efficaces permet d'assurer de façon satisfaisante la liaison entre les spécialistes des différentes branches de l'éducation, de la science et de la culture. Aussi dans tous les domaines, et surtout dans celui des sciences pures et appliquées, où ce problème de la liaison entre spécialistes présente un caractère particulièrement urgent, les services d'analyse, d'indexage et de bibliographie ont-ils pris un développement si considérable qu'un répertoire de cette documentation est devenu un instrument de travail indispensable dont toutes les bibliothèques et tous les instituts de recherches doivent disposer.

Cette nécessité a été reconnue dès 1923 par la Commission internationale de coopération intellectuelle de la Société des Nations, qui accepta à cette époque une proposition présentée par Marcel Godet, directeur de la Bibliothèque nationale suisse, en vue de la publication d'une liste des institutions et des périodiques bibliographiques. La première édition de ce répertoire, publiée sous la direction de Marcel Godet, parut à Genève en 1925 sous le titre d'Index bibliographicus ; il vint s'y ajouter, en 1926, un supplément publié à Renaix (Belgique) sous les auspices de l'Institut international de bibliographie ; enfin une deuxième édition de l'ensemble fut publiée à Berlin en 1931 sous la direction de Marcel Godet et de Joris Vorstius, de la Bibliothèque nationale de Prusse (Berlin).

C'est à l'occasion de la Conférence internationale sur l'analyse de documents scientifiques, en juin 1949, que l'attention de l'Unesco a été attirée pour la première fois sur le besoin d'un nouveau répertoire. Il est apparu que ce besoin se faisait sentir non seulement dans le domaine scientifique et technique, mais aussi dans beaucoup d'autres. C'est pourquoi la Conférence générale de l'Unesco a recommandé, lors de ses quatrième et cinquième sessions, qu'un nouvel Index bibliographicus fût publié, à commencer par le volume que nous présentons ici et où sont énumérés les périodiques contenant des bibliographies ou des analyses de textes scientifiques et techniques. On se propose d'ailleurs de faire paraître en 1952 un deuxième volume consacré aux sciences sociales, à l'éducation et aux sciences humaines.

Le présent ouvrage constitue une véritable suite donnée à l'ancien Index bibliographicus, bien que la forme et le contenu des rubriques aient été modifiés quelque peu. Il a été établi sous la direction de M. Théodore Besterman, qui avait été chargé d'en assurer la préparation par la Fédération internationale de documentation. Que celle-ci trouve ici l'expression de la gratitude de l'Unesco pour le concours qu'elle lui a apporté dans l'accomplissement de la première partie d'un travail qui — il faut l'espérer — sera apprécié des hommes de science et des bibliothécaires du monde entier.

JAIME TORRES BODET
Directeur général de l'Unesco.

Since its inception the International Federation for Documentation, which succeeded the Institut International de Bibliographie founded in 1895, has endeavoured to make scientific literature more accessible. To accomplish this aim one of its most important tasks has always been the collection of information on sources of bibliographic documentation. It was therefore with enthusiasm that the pre-war IIB supported the publication of the Index Bibliographicus, published under the auspices of the International Institute of Intellectual Co-operation, and it is with sincere gratitude that the International Federation for Documentation has accepted the task which Unesco entrusted to it, as well as the assistance of that Organization in taking up that work again after hostilities—a work that was, however, not completely interrupted by the war.

Among the attempts to index bibliographical and abstracting periodicals may be mentioned the important work carried out by the Joint Committee on Indexing and Abstracting in the Major Fields of Research under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Barbara Cowles whose report was distributed in May 1943. At the same time the FID Secretariat was collecting data on abstracting and bibliographical journals, and after the war, thanks to Unesco, it was able to extend the compilation which resulted in the publication of the List of Current Specialized Abstracting and Indexing Services (FID publication No. 235), which was hurriedly prepared for the International Conference on Science Abstracting convened by Unesco in June 1949. Two useful publications—particularly important because of their judicious selectivity—have appeared in the last two years. These are A List of Periodicals and Bulletins containing Abstracts published in Great Britain prepared under the supervision of the Abstracting Services Consultative Committee and issued by The Royal Society of London ; and the list of Abstracting and Indexing Services of Physics Interest prepared by Messrs. Dwight E. Gray and Robert S. Bray under the auspices of the American Institute of Physics.

It is everywhere apparent that data are still not entirely up to date, particularly concerning activities in the Soviet Union and central Europe. The present situation has led to a certain disproportion among the number of entries collected, both as regards the national production of different countries and the specialized bibliographies of each subject.

We are very indebted to Mr. Theodore Besterman, the well known bibliographer, for having accepted the heavy task of compiling and editing this new edition of the Index Bibliographicus. The task

Depuis le début de son existence la Fédération internationale de documentation, qui a succédé à l'Institut international de bibliographie, fondé en 1895, a poursuivi le but de rendre accessible la production intellectuelle des travailleurs scientifiques, et dans ce sens une des tâches importantes a toujours été de recueillir les sources de documentation bibliographique. C'est donc avec enthousiasme que l'I.I.B. d'avant guerre a appuyé la publication de l'Index bibliographicus, édité sous les auspices de l'Institut international de coopération intellectuelle, et c'est avec sincère gratitude que la Fédération internationale de documentation a accepté la tâche qui lui a été confiée par l'Unesco, ainsi que l'aide de cet organisme pour reprendre cette œuvre après les hostilités, œuvre qui du reste n'a pas été complètement interrompue pendant la guerre.

Parmi les tentatives faites pour enregistrer les bibliographies signalétiques et analytiques, citons l'important travail accompli par le Joint Committee on Indexing and Abstracting in the Major Fields of Research sous l'habile présidence de Mme Barbara Cowles, dont le rapport a été diffusé en mai 1943. En même temps le secrétariat de la F.I.D. recueillait des données sur les revues analytiques et bibliographiques et après la guerre, grâce à l'Unesco, elle fut mise en mesure d'étendre le travail de compilation qui en résultait dans la publication de la List of Current Specialized Abstracting and Indexing Services (publication nº 235 de la F.I.D.), préparée d'urgence pour la Conférence sur l'analyse de documents scientifiques convoqués par l'Unesco en juin 1949. Deux publications de valeur — importantes surtout à cause de leur sélection judicieuse — ont paru au cours des deux dernières années. Ce sont A List of Periodicals and Bulletins containing Abstracts published in Great Britain, préparée sous la surveillance de l'Abstracting Services Consultative Committee et éditée par la Royal Society de Londres, et Abstracting and Indexing Services of Physics Interest, liste préparée par MM. Dwight E. Gray et Robert S. Bray, sous les auspices de l'American Institute of Physics.

On remarque toujours que les données ne sont pas encore tout à fait à jour, notamment en ce qui concerne les activités de l'Union soviétique et de l'Europe centrale. La situation actuelle provoque une certaine disproportion entre la quantité de notices recueillies, aussi bien au point de vue de la production nationale de différents pays que des bibliographies spéciales de chaque catégorie.

Nous sommes très reconnaissants à M. Théodore Besterman, bibliographe bien connu, d'avoir voulu accepter la lourde tâche de la rédaction de cette nou-was indeed particularly onerous for Mr. Besterman, not only for the reasons already stated, but also because Unesco has rightly considered the publication of the present directory as being of first priority.

With a view to future periodical editions a card index has been established which will be kept up to date and of which it will be possible to procure copies to complement the published directories.

We hope that the work will prove its utility and will be a success for the editor and his collaborators.

velle édition de l'Index bibliographicus. Tâche en effet très lourde pour M. Besterman, d'abord pour les raisons précitées, mais aussi à cause du fait que l'Unesco, à bon droit, a considéré la publication du présent répertoire comme une tâche de première urgence.

En vue d'éditions périodiques futures on a créé un fichier qui sera tenu à jour et dont il sera possible de se procurer des copies qui complèteront les répertoires publiés.

Espérons que l'œuvre prouvera son utilité et sera un succès pour le rédacteur et ses collaborateurs.

Acknowledgements.

I have to acknowledge my indebtedness to a preliminary list prepared by the International federation for documentation. I wish also to thank most cordially Mr. G. A. Lloyd of the British standards institution, whose expert help in coping with the complex problem of classification was invaluable. Thanks are also due to the numerous organizations throughout the world which completed a questionnaire sent out by the Federation, and to the many institutions which put their specialized knowledge at my disposal. These various bodies are too numerous to set out here, but I must make special mention of the facilities and information put at my disposal by the Bibliothèque nationale (more particularly by Mrs. Briet), the British medical association (especially Dr. G. M. Findlay) the British museum, the British museum (Natural history), the Library of Congress, the Patent office, the Science library, the United States information service; and of similar assistance given by the following bodies : the British ceramic research association, British film association, Cement and concrete association, Commonwealth forestry bureau, Department of scientific and industrial research, Geological society of London, Institute of fuel, Institute of petroleum, Institution of electrical engineers, Institution of mechanical engineers, Institution of mining and metallurgy, Meteorological office of the Air ministry, Ministry of agriculture, Physical society, Research association of British rubber manufacturers, Royal astronomical society, Royal botanic gardens, Royal institute of British architects, Society for cultural relations with the U.S.S.R., Zoological society of London.
It also gives me much pleasure to thank my secretary, Miss J. E. Malcolm, for her skilled and energetic assistance in the most laborious stages of the work.

THEODORE BESTERMAN
Editor.

Remerciements.

Je tiens à signaler ici que j'ai utilisé avec profit une liste préliminaire préparée par la Fédération internationale de documentation. Je tiens aussi à adresser mes plus vifs remerciements à M. G. A. Lloyd de la British standards institution, qui, en mettant à ma disposition ses connaissances techniques, m'a apporté, pour résoudre le problème si complexe de la classification, un concours d'un prix inestimable. Je désire enfin remercier les nombreuses organisations qui, dans toutes les parties du monde, ont bien voulu remplir le questionnaire qui leur avait été adressé par la fédération, ainsi que les multiples institutions qui m'ont fourni des avis autorisés. Si ces organismes sont trop nombreux pour qu'il me soit possible de les citer tous, je dois mentionner tout spécialement l'aide que j'ai reçue, sous forme de renseignements et de facilités diverses, de la Bibliothèque nationale (grâce notamment à Mme Briet), de la British medical association (grâce en particulier au Dr G. M. Findlay) du British museum, du British museum (Natural history), de la Library of Congress, du Patent office, de la Science library, de l'United States information service, ainsi que des organismes et associations ci-après : British ceramic research association, British film institute, British plastics federation, British scientific instruments research association, Cement and concrete association, Commonwealth forestry bureau, Department of scientific and industrial research, Geological society of London, Institute of fuel, Institute of petroleum, Institution of electrical engineers, Institution of mechanical engineers, Institution of mining and metallurgy, Meteorological office of the Air ministry, Ministry of agriculture, Physical society, Research association of British rubber manufacturers, Royal astronomical society, Royal botanic gardens, Royal institute of British architects, Society for cultural relations with the U.S.S.R., Zoological society of London.
Je tiens enfin à exprimer toute ma reconnaissance à ma secrétaire, Mlle J. E. Malcolm, pour le zèle avec lequel elle m'a si intelligemment secondé dans l'accomplissement de la partie de mes travaux la plus ardue.

Directeur de la publication.

Note on use of directory

The directory is at present limited to publications. Institutions able and willing to give relevant information from unpublished sources have multiplied to such an extent in recent years that the listing of them would be an undertaking as formidable and expensive as it would be invaluable. This task must be left for a future occasion.

Even so far as publications are concerned the directory is not intended to be mechanically complete: that is, it does not include all publications in which there appear abstracts or bibliographies. It is nevertheless intended that the directory should include those publications which are useful for retrospective searching. This implies that all publications covering clearly defined fields, however specialized, are included. Wherever they appear to have a definite value for special purposes or for special classes of users, including special linguistic groups, selective publications are also included even in fields in which there exist comprehensive ones. This at least is the goal, but it is realized that it is not likely to be attained at the first or second attempt. Searching criticism is therefore invited, not only in regard to completeness but also in respect of the plan and treatment described below.

The directory has been compiled on lines laid down by the International conference on science abstracting which met under the auspices of Unesco in June 1949. It is arranged according to the Universal decimal classification, but the material actually available has been allowed to dictate the degree of classification adopted, taking into account volume and convenience.

Each entry consists in principle of the following elements in the order shown :

(1) The title of the publication. When the title is given prominence in more than one language and the several languages appear also in the text, the title is quoted in each language. Subtitles are reproduced only when they give useful information.

(2) The name of the responsible or parent organization.

(3) A symbol, within square brackets, giving the following information :

  (i) A notation indicating whether the publication is intended to cover its field comprehensively (c) or selectively (s).

  (ii) The annual number of entries. This information is valuable as giving a general indication of the extent of the field, or at least of the extent to which that field has been covered. The figures given must, however, be used with the utmost caution, since they are often difficult to estimate accurately and

Note sur l'utilisation du répertoire.

La présente édition du répertoire porte exclusivement sur la documentation effectivement publiée. Les institutions qui s'offrent à donner sur les sujets dont il s'agit des informations encore inédites se sont à tel point multipliées au cours des dernières années que leur énumération constituerait une entreprise aussi difficile et coûteuse qu'utile. Il faut donc remettre cette tâche à plus tard.

Même en ce qui concerne les publications, le présent répertoire ne prétend pas être absolument complet : autrement dit, il n'énumère pas toutes les publications qui font paraître des analyses ou des bibliographies. Mais on s'est proposé d'y faire figurer toutes les publications qui peuvent être utiles à ceux qui effectuent des recherches rétrospectives. On a donc cherché à y inclure toutes celles qui portent sur des sujets nettement délimités, fussent-elles même d'un caractère très spécialisé. Dans les domaines où il existe des publications de caractère exhaustif, on a également mentionné les publications sélectives toutes les fois qu'elles ont semblé propres à servir certaines fins ou à intéresser telle ou telle catégorie de lecteurs — un groupe linguistique déterminé, par exemple. Tels sont du moins les buts que nous avons visés, mais nous savons fort bien qu'il est peu probable qu'ils soient atteints du premier coup. Nous invitons donc nos lecteurs à soumettre l'ouvrage à un examen critique approfondi en ce qui concerne non seulement les lacunes qu'il peut présenter, mais aussi le plan et les méthodes utilisés, dont nous donnons ci-dessous la description.

On s'est inspiré, pour établir ce répertoire, des recommandations formulées par la Conférence internationale sur l'analyse de documents scientifiques qui s'est réunie en juin 1949 sous les auspices de l'Unesco. La classification décimale universelle a été adoptée, mais le nombre des subdivisions successives a été fixé dans chaque cas en fonction de la nature et du volume des matériaux à classer.

En principe, chaque notice comprend, dans l'ordre, les éléments ci-après :

1. Titre de la publication. Si le titre et le contenu même de la publication sont rédigés en plusieurs langues, le titre est cité dans chacune de ses langues. Les sous-titres ne sont reproduits que lorsqu'ils donnent des indications utiles.
2. Nom de l'organisation sous la direction ou sous l'égide de laquelle paraît la publication.
3. Une cote entre crochets comprenant :
   a) Une lettre indiquant s'il s'agit d'une publication à dépouillement intégral (c, pour « compréhensive ») ou sélectif (s) ;
   b) Le nombre de notices paraissant chaque année because the number of entries often varies considerably from year to year.

(iii) The language of the abstracts or editorial matter, if this is different from that of the title. Thus if the title is in French, no notation is made if the abstracts or annotations are also in French. Similarly, if the title is in two languages and the text is in both. But if the title is in one language and the abstracts appear in another or in more than one, a notation is made to that effect. A distinction is made between matter appearing in, e.g., French and English (notation E+F) and that given in French or English (EF). D=Danish ; G=German ; I=Italian ; N=Norwegian ; P=Portuguese ; R=Russian ; S=Spanish

(iv) The nature of the information provided, that is, whether it consists of abstracts (a) or of bibliographical entries (b). If the publication consists of abstracts it is further recorded whether the entries are indicative (i) or informative=detailed (d). An indicative abstract is defined as a short abstract intended to enable the reader to decide whether he should read the original article, while an abstract that summarizes the principal arguments and gives the principal data of the original article is said to be informative or detailed. Different experts as often as not give different opinions about the same publication, so the (i) and (d) notation must be used with every reserve.

(v) The number of issues a year; an x indicates irregular publication.

(4) The name of the publisher, if different from (1) and (2).

(5) The business address, given throughout in the form used in the country of origin.

Further editorial annotation is given wherever it is necessary.

Thus [c1200F+Saib12] = a monthly publication which aims to cover its field comprehensively, giving each year about 1200 titles consisting in part of indicative abstracts and in part of bibliographical entries, the abstracts and editorial matter being in French and Spanish.

It has naturally not been possible to give the whole of this information in every entry, even though the great majority of the publications have been described from first-hand inspection. It is hoped in future to indicate also the price of publication, but at present this is impracticable owing to the frequent and extensive changes which are still taking place.

Following the main catalogue are added English and French alphabetic keys to the classification, and an alphabetical list of titles. Those not familiar with the Universal decimal classification should begin by consulting one of the alphabetical indexes of subjects. To save space no publication has been entered more than once in the main text, and no cross-references have been given ; hence the more general classes should be consulted as well as the specific one of interest (e.g., if interested in Analytical chemistry, consult dans la publication en cause. Ce chiffre donne une indication générale sur l'étendue du domaine que la publication se propose de couvrir ou, tout au moins, sur la mesure dans laquelle ce domaine a été effectivement couvert. Mais il faut l'utiliser avec la plus grande prudence, car souvent il est difficile à déterminer avec précision et il varie dans de larges proportions d'une année à l'autre ;

c) La langue dans laquelle sont rédigés les analyses ou articles si ce n'est pas la même que celle du titre. Lorsque, par exemple, le titre a été donné en français, aucune autre indication n'aura à être fournie si les analyses ou notices sont également rédigées en français. Il en sera de même si la publication porte un titre bilingue et est tout entière rédigée dans ces deux mêmes langues. Mais si le titre paraît dans une seule lang e alors que les analyses ou les notices sont écrites en plusieurs langues, ou en une autre langue, le fait sera signalé. On a établi une distinction entre les publications qui paraissent, par exemple, en anglais et en français (notation E+F) et celles qui sont rédigées en partie en français et en partie en anglais (notation EF). D=danois ; E=anglais ; F=français ; G=allemand ; I=italien; N=norvégien ; P=portugais ; R=russe; S=espagnol ;

d) La nature des informations fournies : une lettre indique s'il s'agit d'analyses (a) ou de notices bibliographiques (b) ; dans le premier cas une autre lettre indique s'il s'agit d'analyses signalétiques (i, pour « indicative ») ou d'analyses détaillées (d). Par « analyse signalétique » on entend une analyse sommaire qui permet au lecteur de décider s'il a intérêt à lire le texte intégral de la publication analysée ; l' « analyse détaillée » au contraire vise à résumer les principaux arguments et les principales informations contenus dans le texte original. Mais bien souvent les experts ne sont pas d'accord sur la catégorie dans laquelle il convient de placer une analyse ; aussi la notation i ou d ne doit-elle être utilisée qu'avec beaucoup de prudence.

e) Le nombre de numéros publiés chaque année (le signe x indiquant qu'ils ne paraissent pas à dates régulières).

4. Le nom de l'éditeur, si ce renseignement ne se confond pas avec ceux qui ont été donnés au points 1 et 2).

5. Son adresse commerciale, sous la forme utilisée dans le pays d'origine.

D'autres annotations ont été ajoutées chaque fois que cela semblait nécessaire.

Ainsi la cote [c1200F+Saib12] se traduira comme suit : publication mensuelle à dépouillement intégral portant chaque année sur environ 1.200 articles et comprenant à la fois des analyses signalétiques et des notices bibliographiques rédigées en français et en espagnol.

Il n'a pas été possible de fournir dans chaque cas tous les renseignements mentionnés ci-dessus, bien que la plupart des publications mentionnées aient fait l'objet d'un examen de première main. On espère, à l'avenir, also Chemistry and Science and technology in general). The user who is looking for a known title will of course turn to the index of titles.

As already stated, comment and criticism are invited. Communications should be addressed to :

General secretary,
International federation for documentation,
Willem Witsenplein 6,
's Gravenhage,
Nederland.

pouvoir indiquer également le prix de chaque publication, mais ceci est impossible actuellement en raison de la fréquence et de l'importance des variations subies par les prix.

A la suite du répertoire proprement dit figure un index en français et en anglais des rubriques de la classification utilisée, et une liste alphabétique des titres cités. Les lecteurs qui ne sont pas déjà familiarisés avec la classification décimale universelle auront intérêt à consulter d'abord l'une des tables alphabétiques des sujets traités. Pour gagner de la place, aucune publication n'a été mentionnée plus d'une fois dans le répertoire et on n'a pas fait de renvois ; le lecteur devra donc se reporter non seulement à la subdivision concernant exactement le sujet qui l'intéresse, mais aussi aux rubriques plus générales qui englobent ce sujet. (S'il veut se documenter, par exemple, sur la chimie analytique, il lui faudra consulter également les sections « Chimie en général » ou même « Science et technique en général ».) Pour chercher une publication dont il connaît le titre, il aura, bien entendu, recours à la liste alphabétique des titres.

Comme il a déjà été dit, tous commentaires et critiques seront accueillis avec reconnaissance.
Prière de les envoyer à l'adresse ci-après :

M. le secrétaire général
de la Fédération internationale de documentation,
Willem Witsenplein 6,

It is expected that this volume of Index bibliographicus, dealing with the social sciences, education and humanistic studies, will be used by many specialists who do not possess the first volume dealing with science and technology. It has, therefore, been thought appropriate to repeat the Forewords contributed by the Director-General of Unesco and the General Secretary of the International Federation for Documentation which introduced the first volume.

*Il est raisonnable de penser que ce second volume de l'*Index bibliographicus, consacré aux sciences sociales, à l'éducation et aux sciences humaines, sera utilisé par de nombreux spécialistes qui ne posséderont pas le volume I, traitant des sciences et des techniques. C'est pourquoi on a pensé qu'il était nécessaire de reproduire l'avant-propos du Directeur général de l'Unesco et l'introduction du secrétaire général de la Fédération internationale de documentation qui figurent en tête du premier volume.

CUA. 51. VII. 2 AF

Foreword

It is now so widely recognized as to be beyond debate that workers in all fields of education, science and culture cannot be fully efficient in their contacts with their colleagues unless they command good bibliographical services. Thus in all subject fields, and particularly in pure and applied science, in which this problem of communication is most urgent, there has been such a vast development of abstracting and other forms of bibliography that a guide to them is an essential tool in every library and research institute.

This need was recognized as far back as 1923 by the International Committee of Intellectual Co-operation of the League of Nations when it accepted a proposal presented by Marcel Godet, Director of the National Library, Switzerland, for the publication of a guide to "bibliographic co-ordination". The first edition of the guide, edited by Godet, was published at Geneva in 1925 under the title Index Bibliographicus. In 1926 a supplement was published at Renaix, Belgium, under the auspices of the International Institute for Bibliography, and a second edition of the Index as a whole was published in Berlin in 1931, jointly edited by Marcel Godet and Joris Vorstius of the Prussian State Library, Berlin.

The demand for a new directory was first brought urgently to Unesco's attention by the International Conference on Science Abstracting, held in June 1949. Since it was evident that the same need existed in other than scientific and technical fields the Fourth and Fifth Sessions of the General Conference of Unesco agreed that a new Index Bibliographicus should be published with attention first being given to the present volume which records periodicals containing bibliographies and abstracts in science and technology. It is intended to publish a second volume covering the social sciences, education and humanistic studies in 1952.

The present Index is in direct continuation of the earlier work, although the form and scope of the entries are somewhat changed. The main work of preparation was carried out by Mr. Theodore Besterman as compiler and editor on behalf of the International Federation for Documentation. I wish to thank the Federation for its collaboration with Unesco in this first part of a task whose fulfilment I hope will be widely welcomed by scientists and librarians throughout the world.

JAIME TORRES BODET
Director-General, Unesco.

Avant-propos.

Tous s'accordent à reconnaître aujourd'hui que seule l'existence de services bibliographiques efficaces permet d'assurer de façon satisfaisante la liaison entre les spécialistes des différentes branches de l'éducation, de la science et de la culture. Aussi dans tous les domaines, et surtout dans celui des sciences pures et appliquées, où ce problème de la liaison entre spécialistes présente un caractère particulièrement urgent, les services d'analyse, d'indexage et de bibliographie ont-ils pris un développement si considérable qu'un répertoire de cette documentation est devenu un instrument de travail indispensable dont toutes les bibliothèques et tous les instituts de recherches doivent disposer.

Cette nécessité a été reconnue dès 1923 par la Commission internationale de coopération intellectuelle de la Société des Nations, qui accepta à cette époque une proposition présentée par Marcel Godet, directeur de la Bibliothèque nationale suisse, en vue de la publication d'une liste des institutions et des périodiques bibliographiques. La première édition de ce répertoire, publiée sous la direction de Marcel Godet, parut à Genève en 1925 sous le titre d'Index bibliographicus ; il vint s'y ajouter, en 1926, un supplément publié à Renaix (Belgique) sous les auspices de l'Institut international de bibliographie ; enfin une deuxième édition de l'ensemble fut publiée à Berlin en 1931 sous la direction de Marcel Godet et de Joris Vorstius, de la Bibliothèque nationale de Prusse (Berlin).

C'est à l'occasion de la Conférence internationale sur l'analyse de documents scientifiques, en juin 1949, que l'attention de l'Unesco a été attirée pour la première fois sur le besoin d'un nouveau répertoire. Il est apparu que ce besoin se faisait sentir non seulement dans le domaine scientifique et technique, mais aussi dans beaucoup d'autres. C'est pourquoi la Conférence générale de l'Unesco a recommandé, lors de ses quatrième et cinquième sessions, qu'un nouvel Index bibliographicus fût publié, à commencer par le volume que nous présentons ici et où sont énumérés les périodiques contenant des bibliographies ou des analyses de textes scientifiques et techniques. On se propose d'ailleurs de faire paraître en 1952 un deuxième volume consacré aux sciences sociales, à l'éducation et aux sciences humaines.

Le présent ouvrage constitue une véritable suite donnée à l'ancien Index bibliographicus, bien que la forme et le contenu des rubriques aient été modifiés quelque peu. Il a été établi sous la direction de M. Théodore Besterman, qui avait été chargé d'en assurer la préparation par la Fédération internationale de documentation. Que celle-ci trouve ici l'expression de la gratitude de l'Unesco pour le concours qu'elle lui a apporté dans l'accomplissement de la première partie d'un travail qui — il faut l'espérer — sera apprécié des hommes de science et des bibliothécaires du monde entier.

JAIME TORRES BODET
Directeur général de l'Unesco.

Since its inception the International Federation for Documentation, which succeeded the Institut International de Bibliographie founded in 1895, has endeavoured to make scientific literature more accessible. To accomplish this aim one of its most important tasks has always been the collection of information on sources of bibliographic documentation. It was therefore with enthusiasm that the pre-war IIB supported the publication of the Index Bibliographicus, published under the auspices of the International Institute of Intellectual Co-operation, and it is with sincere gratitude that the International Federation for Documentation has accepted the task which Unesco entrusted to it, as well as the assistance of that Organization in taking up that work again after hostilities—a work that was, however, not completely interrupted by the war.

Among the attempts to index bibliographical and abstracting periodicals may be mentioned the important work carried out by the Joint Committee on Indexing and Abstracting in the Major Fields of Research under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Barbara Cowles whose report was distributed in May 1943. At the same time the FID Secretariat was collecting data on abstracting and bibliographical journals, and after the war, thanks to Unesco, it was able to extend the compilation which resulted in the publication of the List of Current Specialized Abstracting and Indexing Services (FID publication No. 235), which was hurriedly prepared for the International Conference on Science Abstracting convened by Unesco in June 1949. Two useful publications—particularly important because of their judicious selectivity—have appeared in the last two years. These are A List of Periodicals and Bulletins containing Abstracts published in Great Britain prepared under the supervision of the Abstracting Services Consultative Committee and issued by The Royal Society of London; and the list of Abstracting and Indexing Services of Physics Interest prepared by Messrs. Dwight E. Gray and Robert S. Bray under the auspices of the American Institute of Physics.

It is everywhere apparent that data are still not entirely up to date, particularly concerning activities in the Soviet Union and central Europe. The present situation has led to a certain disproportion among the number of entries collected, both as regards the national production of different countries and the specialized bibliographies of each subject.

We are very indebted to Mr. Theodore Besterman, the well known bibliographer, for having accepted the heavy task of compiling and editing this new edition of the Index Bibliographicus. The task

Depuis le début de son existence la Fédération internationale de documentation, qui a succédé à l'Institut international de bibliographie, fondé en 1895, a poursuivi le but de rendre accessible la production intellectuelle des travailleurs scientifiques, et dans ce sens une des tâches importantes a toujours été de recueillir les sources de documentation bibliographique. C'est donc avec enthousiasme que l'I.I.B. d'avant guerre a appuyé la publication de l'Index bibliographicus, édité sous les auspices de l'Institut international de coopération intellectuelle, et c'est avec sincère gratitude que la Fédération internationale de documentation a accepté la tâche qui lui a été confiée par l'Unesco, ainsi que l'aide de cet organisme pour reprendre cette œuvre après les hostilités, œuvre qui du reste n'a pas été complètement interrompue pendant la guerre.

Parmi les tentatives faites pour enregistrer les bibliographies signalétiques et analytiques, citons l'important travail accompli par le Joint Committee on Indexing and Abstracting in the Major Fields of Research sous l'habile présidence de Mme Barbara Cowles, dont le rapport a été diffusé en mai 1943. En même temps le secrétariat de la F.I.D. recueillait des données sur les revues analytiques et bibliographiques et après la guerre, grâce à l'Unesco, elle fut mise en mesure d'étendre le travail de compilation qui en résultait dans la publication de la List of Current Specialized Abstracting and Indexing Services (publication nº 235 de la F.I.D.), préparée d'urgence pour la Conférence sur l'analyse de documents scientifiques convoquée par l'Unesco en juin 1949. Deux publications de valeur — importantes surtout à cause de leur sélection judicieuse — ont paru au cours des deux dernières années. Ce sont A List of Periodicals and Bulletins containing Abstracts published in Great Britain, préparée sous la surveillance de l'Abstracting Services Consultative Committee et éditée par la Royal Society de Londres, et Abstracting and Indexing Services of Physics Interest, liste préparée par MM. Dwight E. Gray et Robert S. Bray, sous les auspices de l'American Institute of Physics.

On remarque toujours que les données ne sont pas encore tout à fait à jour, notamment en ce qui concerne les activités de l'Union soviétique et de l'Europe centrale. La situation actuelle provoque une certaine disproportion entre la quantité de notices recueillies, aussi bien au point de vue de la production nationale de différents pays que des bibliographies spéciales de chaque catégorie.

Nous sommes très reconnaissants à M. Théodore Besterman, bibliographe bien connu, d'avoir voulu accepter la lourde tâche de la rédaction de cette nou-

was indeed particularly onerous for Mr. Besterman, not only for the reasons already stated, but also because Unesco has rightly considered the publication of the present directory as being of first priority.

With a view to future periodical editions a card index has been established which will be kept up to date and of which it will be possible to procure copies to complement the published directories.

We hope that the work will prove its utility and will be a success for the editor and his collaborators.

velle édition de l'Index bibliographicus. Tâche en effet très lourde pour M. Besterman, d'abord pour les raisons précitées, mais aussi à cause du fait que l'Unesco, à bon droit, a considéré la publication du présent répertoire comme une tâche de première urgence.

En vue d'éditions périodiques futures on a créé un fichier qui sera tenu à jour et dont il sera possible de se procurer des copies qui compléteront les répertoires publiés.

Espérons que l'œuvre prouvera son utilité et sera un succès pour le rédacteur et ses collaborateurs.

Acknowledgements

I have much pleasure in acknowledging the facilities provided by the following British organizations, which enabled me to establish a preliminary draft of the bibliography: British library of political and economic science, British museum (Music room), Institute of education, Institute of historical research, Joint library of the Hellenic and Roman societies, Royal geographical society, Society of antiquaries, War office.

Thanks are also due to the numerous correspondents throughout the world, both personal and corporate, to whom the preliminary draft was circulated and who supplied corrections and additions. They are too numerous for me to be able to list them all here, but I must make special mention of: Professor José Federico Fino, Buenos Aires; Oesterreichische Nationalbibliothek, Wien; Danmarks tekniske Bibliotek, København; University library, Helsinki; Bibliothèque nationale, Paris; Dr. Hans Widmann, Tübingen; Jewish national and university library, Jerusalem; Dr. Olga Pinto, Roma; Koninklijke bibliotheek, 's Gravenhage; National library service of New Zealand, Wellington; Bibliotheka narodowa, Warszawa; Biblioteca nacional, Lisboa; Biblioteca nacional, Madrid; Schweizerische Landesbibliothek, Bern; South African public library, Cape Town; Library of Congress, Washington.

I wish also to thank most cordially Mr. G. A. Lloyd, of the British standards institution, whose expert help in coping with the complex problem of classification was invaluable. It also gives me much pleasure to thank my secretary, Miss J. E. Malcolm, for her skilled and energetic assistance.

Remerciements.

J'ai plaisir à citer ici les noms des organisations britanniques qui ont bien voulu mettre leurs ressources à ma disposition et m'ont ainsi permis de préparer une version préliminaire de la bibliographie : British library of political and economic sciences, British museum (Music room), Institute of education, Institute of historical research, Joint library of the Hellenic and Roman societies, Royal geographical society, Society of antiquaries, War office.

Je désire aussi remercier les nombreuses personnes ou organisations qui, dans toutes les parties du monde, ont reçu cette version préliminaire et m'ont envoyé leurs corrections et additions. Ces correspondants sont trop nombreux pour qu'il me soit possible d'en donner une liste complète, mais je désire mentionner tout spécialement : Dr Hans Widmann, Tübingen; professeur José Federico Fino, Buenos Aires; Oesterrischische Nationalbibliothek, Wien; Danmarks tekniske bibliotheek, København; Biblioteca nacional, Madrid; Library of Congress, Washington; University library, Helsinki; Bibliothèque nationale, Paris; Jewish national and university library, Jerusalem; Dr Olga Pinto, Roma; National library service of New Zealand, Wellington; Koninklijke bibliotheek, 's Gravenhage; Bibliotheca narodowa, Warszawa; Biblioteca nacional, Lisboa; Schweizerische Landesbibliothek, Berne; South African public library, Cape Town.

Je tiens aussi à adresser mes plus vifs remerciements à M. G. A. Lloyd, de la British standards institution, qui, en mettant à ma disposition ses connaissances techniques, m'a apporté, pour résoudre le problème si complexe de la classification, un concours d'un prix inestimable. Je tiens enfin à exprimer toute ma reconnaissance à ma secrétaire, Mlle J. E. Malcolm, pour le zèle avec lequel elle m'a si intelligemment secondé dans l'accomplissement de mon travail.

Note on use of directory

The directory is at present limited to publications. Institutions able and willing to give relevant information from unpublished sources have multiplied to such an extent in recent years that the listing of them would be an undertaking as formidable and expensive as it would be invaluable. This task must be left for a future occasion.

Even so far as publications are concerned the directory is not intended to be mechanically complete: that is, it does not include all publications in which there appear abstracts or bibliographies. It is nevertheless intended that the directory should include those publications which are useful for retrospective searching. This implies that all publications covering clearly defined fields, however specialized, are included. Wherever they appear to have a definite value for special purposes or for special classes of users, including special linguistic groups, selective publications are also included even in fields in which there exist comprehensive ones. This at least is the goal, but it is realized that it is not likely to be attained at the first or second attempt. Searching criticism is therefore invited, not only in regard to completeness but also in respect of the plan and treatment described below.

The directory has been compiled on lines laid down by the International conference on science abstracting which met under the auspices of Unesco in June 1949. It is arranged according to the Universal decimal classification, but the material actually available has been allowed to dictate the degree of classification adopted, taking into account volume and convenience.

Each entry consists in principle of the following elements in the order shown:

(1) The title of the publication. When the title is given prominence in more than one language and the several languages appear also in the text, the title is quoted in each language. Subtitles are reproduced only when they give useful information.

(2) The name of the responsible or parent organization.

(3) A symbol, within square brackets, giving the following information:

(I) A notation indicating whether the publication is intended to cover its field comprehensively (c) or selectively (s).

(II) The language of the abstracts or editorial matter, if this is different from that of the title. Thus if the title is in French, no notation is made if the abstracts or annotations are also in French. Similarly, if the title is in two languages and the text is in both. But if the title is in one language and the

Note sur l'utilisation du répertoire.

Le répertoire porte à présent exclusivement sur la documentation publiée. Les institutions qui s'offrent à donner des informations inédites se sont à tel point multipliées au cours des dernières années que leur énumération constituerait une entreprise aussi difficile et coûteuse qu'utile. Il faut donc remettre cette tâche à plus tard.

Même en ce qui concerne les publications, le présent répertoire ne prétend pas être littéralement complet : autrement dit, il n'énumère pas toutes les publications qui font paraître des analyses ou des bibliographies. Mais on s'est proposé d'y faire figurer toutes les publications qui peuvent être utiles à ceux qui effectuent des recherches rétrospectives. On a donc cherché à y inclure toutes celles qui portent sur des sujets nettement délimités, fussent-elles même d'un caractère très spécialisé. Dans les domaines où il existe des publications de caractère exhaustif, on a également mentionné les publications sélectives toutes les fois qu'elles ont semblé propres à servir certaines fins ou à intéresser telle ou telle catégorie de lecteurs, même un groupe linguistique déterminé. Tels sont du moins les buts que nous avons visés, mais nous savons fort bien qu'il est peu probable qu'ils soient atteints du premier coup. Nous invitons donc nos lecteurs à soumettre l'ouvrage à un examen critique approfondi en ce qui concerne non seulement les lacunes qu'il peut présenter, mais aussi le plan et les méthodes utilisés, dont nous donnons ci-dessous la description.

On s'est inspiré, pour établir ce répertoire, des recommandations formulées par la Conférence internationale sur l'analyse de documents scientifiques qui s'est réunie en juin 1949 sous les auspices de l'Unesco. La classification décimale universelle a été adoptée, mais le nombre des subdivisions utilisées a été fixé dans chaque cas en fonction de la nature et du volume des matériaux à classer.

En principe, chaque notice comprend les éléments ci-après, dans l'ordre indiqué :

1. Titre de la publication. Si le titre et le contenu même de la publication sont rédigés en plusieurs langues, le titre est cité dans chacune de ces langues. Les sous-titres ne sont reproduits que lorsqu'ils donnent des indications utiles.
2. Nom de l'organisation sous la direction ou sous l'égide de laquelle paraît la publication.
3. Une cote entre crochets comprenant :

(a) Une lettre indiquant s'il s'agit d'une publication qui se propose d'être exhaustive (c, pour « comprehensive ») ou sélective (s) dans sa matière ;

(b) La langue dans laquelle sont rédigés les analyses ou articles si ce n'est pas la même que celle du abstracts appear in another or in more than one, a notation is made to that effect. A distinction is made between matter appearing in, e.g., French and English (notation E+F) and that given in French or English (EF). D=Danish ; G=German ; I=Italian ; N=Norwegian ; P=Portuguese ; R=Russian ; S=Spanish

(III) The nature of the information provided, that is, whether it consists of abstracts (a) or of bibliographical entries (b).

(IV) The number of issues a year; an x indicates irregular publication.

(4) The name of the publisher, if different from (1) and (2).

(5) The business address, given throughout in the form used in the country of origin.

Further editorial annotation is given wherever it is necessary.

In Vol. I additional information was included : the estimated annual number of entries, and symbols indicating whether abstracts were "indicative" or "informative". It has been decided to exclude these annotations in this volume. It is generally difficult to estimate the number of entries accurately and they vary so greatly from year to year that the information is of doubtful value; the definitions "indicative" and "informative" are largely subjective and cannot be used with confidence that they accurately convey the nature of the abstracts; they may be positively misleading when used to define the character of whole publications.

Thus [cF+Sab12]=a monthly publication which aims to cover its field comprehensively, consisting in part of abstracts and in part of bibliographical entries, the abstracts and editorial matter being in French and Spanish.

It has naturally not been possible to give the whole of this information in every entry, even though the great majority of the publications have been described from first-hand inspection. It is hoped in future to indicate also the price of publication, but at present this is impracticable owing to the frequent and extensive changes which are still taking place.

Following the main catalogue are added English and French alphabetic keys to the classification, and an alphabetical list of titles. Those not familiar with the Universal decimal classification should begin by consulting one of the alphabetical indexes of subjects. To save space no publication has been entered more than once in the main text, and no cross-references have been given ; hence the more general classes should be consulted as well as the specific one of interest (e.g., if interested in a specific language consult also philology in general). The user who is looking for a known title will of course turn to the index of titles.

As already stated, comment and criticism are invited. Communications should be addressed to:

General secretary, International federation for documentation, Willem Witsenplein 6, 's Gravenhage, Nederland.

titre. Lorsque, par exemple, le titre a été donné en français, aucune autre indication n'aura à être fournie si les analyses ou les notes sont également rédigées en français. Il en sera de même si la publication porte un titre bilingue et est tout entière rédigée dans ces deux mêmes langues. Mais, si le titre paraît dans une seule langue, alors que les analyses ou les notes sont écrites en plusieurs langues, ou en une autre langue, le fait sera signalé. On a établi une distinction entre les publications qui paraissent, par exemple, en anglais et en français (notation E+F) et celles qui sont rédigées en partie en français et en partie en anglais (notation EF). D=danois ; E=anglais ; F=français ; G=allemand ; I=italien; N=norvégien ; P=portugais ; R=russe; S=espagnol ;

(c) La nature des informations fournies : une lettre indique s'il s'agit d'analyses (a) ou de notices bibliographiques (b).

(d) Le nombre de numéros publiés chaque année (la lettre x indiquant qu'ils paraissent à dates irrégulières).

4. Le nom de l'éditeur, si ce renseignement ne se confond pas avec ceux qui ont été donnés aux points 1 et 2.

5. Son adresse commerciale, sous la forme utilisée dans le pays d'origine.

Le volume I contenait aussi des renseignements concernant le nombre approximatif des notices publiées chaque année, et la nature des analyses, c'est-à-dire si elles étaient « signalétiques » ou « détaillées ». On a décidé de ne pas faire figurer ces indications dans ce volume. Il est difficile en général de donner une estimation correcte du nombre des notices publiées, et d'ailleurs ce nombre varie tellement d'une année à l'autre que la valeur de ce renseignement est presque nulle ; de plus, les définitions de l'analyse « signalétique » et « détaillée » varient avec les personnes, et on ne peut se servir de ces expressions avec l'assurance qu'elles évoqueront dans l'esprit de tous des images semblables sur la nature des analyses. En fait, elles pourraient même induire en erreur si on les employait pour définir le caractère de toute publication.

D'autres annotations ont été ajoutées chaque fois que cela semblait nécessaire.

Ainsi la cote [cF+Sab12] se traduira comme suit : publication mensuelle qui se propose d'être exhaustive, comprenant à la fois des analyses et des notices bibliographiques, les analyses et le texte étant rédigés en français et en espagnol.

Il n'a pas été possible de fournir dans chaque cas tous les renseignements mentionnés ci-dessus, bien que la plupart des publications mentionnées aient fait l'objet d'un examen de première main. On espère, à l'avenir, pouvoir indiquer également le prix de chaque publication, mais ceci est impossible actuellement en raison de la fréquence et de l'importance des variations subies par les prix.

A la suite du répertoire proprement dit figurent deux index alphabétiques des matières, en français et en anglais, et une liste alphabétique des titres cités. Les lecteurs qui ne sont pas déjà familiarisés avec la classification décimale universelle auront intérêt à consulter d'abord l'une des tables alphabétiques des sujets traités. Pour gagner de la place, aucune publication n'a été mentionnée plus d'une fois dans le répertoire et on n'a pas fait de renvois ; le lecteur devra donc se reporter non seulement à la subdivision concernant exactement le sujet qui l'intéresse, mais aussi aux rubriques plus générales qui englobent ce sujet. (S'il veut se documenter, par exemple, sur une langue particulière, il lui faudra consulter également la section général de linguistique.) Pour chercher une publication dont on connaît le titre, on aura, bien entendu, recours à la liste alphabétique des titres.

Comme il a déjà été dit, tous commentaires et critiques seront accueillis avec reconnaissance. Prière de les envoyer à l'adresse ci-après :

M. le secrétaire général de la Fédération internationale de documentation, Willem Witsenplein 6, 's Gravenhage, Nederland.

WORLD HANDBOOK OF EDUCATIONAL ORGANIZATION AND STATISTICS

FIRST EDITION

In publishing the World Handbook of Educational Organization and Statistics, Unesco attempts to provide for students of education and administration a reference book which gives them a general guide and up-to-date statistics on education systems in countries other than their own. The volume contains separate sections for some 56 independent States throughout the world. The core of each national entry is a set of statistics :

* a summary table giving the number of schools, pupils enrolled, teachers;
* additional tables (where available) on the age-sex distribution of pupils, enrolment in higher education by faculties, and expenditure on education.

By themselves, such statistics are difficult or impossible to interpret, and they are therefore introduced in each case by a descriptive text outlining the main features of the country's system of education. A short bibliography supplements information given in this necessarily condensed text. Finally, the school structure is explained in two ways—by a diagram and by a classification table of school types.

A glossary of terms and an index assist in ready reference.

The World Handbook of Educational Organization and Statistics will provide libraries and teaching institutions with a valuable reference tool to place at the disposal of all who are concerned with educational problems.

Obtainable from any good bookseller or direct from the Unesco national distributor in your country (see list).
